CAA SERVICE TERMS

MEMBERSHIP, ROADSIDE ASSISTANCE LIMITATIONS AND EXCESSIVE USE

In fairness to all Members, Roadside Assistance is not to be used as a substitute for proper vehicle maintenance. To ensure we meet our Members' expectations, CAA has set reasonable limitations and regulations in the interest of all Members. CAA Membership dues are adjusted annually and take into account the cost of providing Roadside Assistance and other CAA services including: TourBooks®, maps and TripTiks® utilized by the Member. After all, CAA Membership dues pay for all of CAA's services.

CAA Classic®, CAA Plus® & Plus RV® Members are entitled to a maximum of four Roadside Assistance calls per Membership year. CAA Premier® & Premier RV® Members are entitled to five Roadside Assistance calls per Membership year, and one of those calls may be a tow of up to 320 km. Service at a special rate will be offered to all Members who exceed this limit and they will be required to pay the CAA driver at the time of service. Members who have used the maximum number of entitled service calls for their Membership year are not eligible for reimbursements. Full Roadside Assistance benefits are reinstated upon the renewal date of your Membership.

CAA reserves the right to limit or suspend services during extreme weather events or to re-assign a Membership category, or to cancel a Membership if services are being misused. CAA also reserves the right to change benefits and policies regarding Memberships.

CAA SERVICE TERMS

CAA's goal is to provide the highest quality Roadside Assistance available. Though all CAA Clubs deliver industry-leading services throughout Canada, the continental United States, Alaska, and Hawaii, certain benefits may vary from Club to Club. Help us maintain these high standards by providing your comments at anytime.

Email us at contactcaa@caaneo.on.ca

CAA Member reimbursement rates are based on the CAA contractor rate for the area of the breakdown. In instances where CAA service is legally restricted (such as toll roads and limited access highways), full reimbursement will be provided for eligible services and must be submitted within 30 days from date of service with original invoice in the Member's name.

Emergency Cheque Acceptance – In the event you need to pay a CAA Contracted Operator for Emergency Services, and you must pay with a cheque, CAA will guarantee that cheque up to $350. You must show a valid Membership card at the time, and the name on the cheque must match the Member's name.

For a detailed description of Roadside Assistance Limitations of Service, please refer to our website at caaneo.ca/automotive.
